

The Little Things

There are no cards to tell you
What I feel inside
It's not the places that we go
Or the big things we've been through
The little things are the reason why
I love you like I do
The little things you do for me,
The little things you say,
Your tender smile, your teasing grin
You bring sunshine to my day.
The thoughtful little gifts you give,
The little things we share
Your gentle touch, your perfect kiss
Are the things that show you care.
Our road through life is bumpy,
And it isn't always straight.
But I'm glad it's you who's by my side
With each twist and turn of fate
So remember all these little things,
As we live our day to day
Forever in our heart, this moment Will always stay!
